PRESIDENT CLEVELAND did exactly right in sending troops to Chicago to protect life and property, even if there had been no precedent to guide him. The Governor of Illinois and the Mayor of Chicago did not seem to take in the threatening situation, or did not want to, and only was reminded of their duty when they saw the noble stand taken by the President. Both Houses of Congress have endors-ed the action of the President, as do the people of the nation, outside of a few with anarchistic inclination.

THE Chicago Inter Ocean truly says: There is nothing more foolish, demogogic, or vicious than the modern yell of the agitator about "putting down not synonymous terms, although some capital," and that "capital is the enemy of labor." What possible benefit can the worker expect by destroying capital? Does he want to work for an insolvent concern? Capital is only accumulated labor. The bulk of employers in America have at one time been workers. The more capital they have the better for their workmen. If only bankrupts run factories and machine shops it is hard to see how it would benefit labor.

THE fact that Henry county kept he convention waiting an unusual ength of time at Defiance on the 12th, eems to worry the Toledo Blade exceedingly, and the only solution it persists in giving for the delay is, that Judge Donnelly was getting in his work knifing Mr. Donovan. The Blade gives it this construction to please itself and to vent its spite towards Judge Donnelly. The facts are: The headquarters of Henry county were something like a half mile from the convention hall, and at the time referred to by the Blade, the delegates after arriving at headquarters found themselves locked outsomebody had closed the door and a spring lock did the rest. It took ome little time to hunt up the person with the key, and that is all there is in the much talked of delay in casting the vote of Henry county. Is the Blade satisfied?

Written to Chairman Wilson

party way possible declared in favor of of free importation of raw materials. We have again and again promised that this should be ac orded to our people and our manufacturer as soon as the democratic party was invested with the power to determine the tariff policy of the country. The party now hast the power. We are as certain to-day as we have ever been of the great benefit that would accrue to the country from the inauguration of this policy, and nothing has to release us from our obligation to secure this advantage to our people. It must be admitted that no tariff measure can accord with democratic principles and promises, or bear a genuine democratic badge, that does not provide for free raw materials. In these circumstances it may well excite our wonder that democratic of all tariff principles, and that the inconsistent absurdity of such a proposed departure should be emphasized by the suggestion that the wool of the farmer be put on the free list, and the pretection of tariff taxation be placed around the iron ore and coal of the corporations of the capitalists. How can we face the people affer indulging in such outrageons discriminations and violations of principle? It is quite apparent that this question of free raw materials does not admit of adjustment on any middle ground, since their subjection to any rate of tariff taxation, great or small, is alike violative or democratic principle and democratic good faith.

I hope you will not consider it intrusive if the provision materials in the provision of the raw materials does not admit of adjustment on any middle ground, since their subjection to any rate of tariff taxation, great or small, is alike violative or democratic principle and democratic good faith.

I hope you will not consider it intrusive if you will not consider it democratic principle and democratic good faith.

I hope you will not consider it intrusive if I say something in relation to another subject which can hardly fail to be troublesome to the or nerence. I refer to the adjustment of tariff ta ation on sugar. Under our party platform and in accordance with our declared party purposes, sugar is a legitimate and logical article of revenue taxation. Un ortunately, however, incidents have accompanied certain s ages of the legislation which will be submitted to the conference that have aroused in connection with this subject a natural democratic animosity to the methods and manipulations of trusts and combinations. I co fess to sharing in this feeling; and yet it seems to me we ought, if possible to sufficiently free curselves from prejudice to enable us coolly to weigh the considerations, which, in formulating tariff legislation ought to guide our treatment of sugar as a taxable article, and while no tenderness should be entertained for trusts, and while I am decidedly apposed to granting, under the guise of tariff taxation, and opportunity to further their peculiar methods, I suggest that we ought not to be driven away from the democratic principle and policy which lead to the taxation of sugar, by fear, quite likely exaggerated, that in carrying out this principle and policy we may directly and inordinately encourage a combination of sugar refining interests, I know that in principle and policy we may directly and inordinately encourage a combination of sugar refining interests, I know that in present conditions this is a delicate subject and I appreciate the depth and strength of the feeling which its treatment has aroused.

Correcte(by H present conditions this is a delicate subject and I appreciate the depth and strength of the feeling which its treatment has aroused. I do not believe that we should do evil that good may come, but it seems to me that we should not forget that our aim is the completion of a tariff bill, and that in taxing sugar for proper purposes and within reason. pletion of a tariff bill, and that in taxing sugar for proper purposes and within reason-able bounds, whatever else may be said of action, we are no danger of running counter to democratic principle.
